

Dr. Gayatri Singh, Senior Urban Development Specialist, World Bank

Gayatri Singh is a Senior Urban Development Specialist at the World Bank's Urban, Disaster Risk Management, Resilience and Land Global Practice. Over the past 20 years she has worked in South Asia, Sub-Saharan Africa and East Asia within and outside the World Bank. In her current role, she is collaborating with urban and national governments in East Asia to create inclusive, sustainable and efficient cities through a combination of integrated spatial planning, investment projects, policy reform, technical assistance focused on leveraging geospatial intelligence and smart technological innovations at city level. She trained as a Rhodes Scholar in Oxford University and subsequently completed her Ph.D. at Brown University as a demographer.