Summary

The Spatial Planning Platform

Recent unplanned development and rapid urban growth is a major issue in a number of developing countries, particularly in Asia. To address these issues, the Spatial Planning Platform (SPP) was established by Ministry of Land, Infrastructure, Transport and Tourism (MLIT) of Japan and UN-Habitat Regional Office for Asia and the Pacific. SPP works as a network of stakeholders to achieve the formulation and implementation of more effective spatial plans.

This event will explore the essential element of local and regional cooperation to maximize the benefits of the national spatial plan.
